Hi there! Can I tell you about my fiber? Fiber is what my hair is called. I like to sit in the rain and my fiber keeps me dry by pushing the rain water away from my body.

Alpacas - that’s what I am - don’t make Lanolin, which is a moisturizing wax produced by sheep, so we are hypoallergenic for most people.

When I am not admiring my fiber I love to run around with the chickens.

Fast Fact with Ernie: Alpaca fiber is three times warmer than sheep’s wool due to small air pockets that act as advanced insulating layer.
